

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Aug. 4.—The supply of good peaches in the local market has been light for several days and the indications are that this will be the condition for the remainder of the week. Next week undoubtedly offerings will be heavier, and when the movement of Oregon Crawford's from the Ashland and Dalles districts begins there will be an abundance of the fruit.

The present is more or less a between seasons period. The movement of Oregon Hales and Alexanders, which were the first to appear in the market, is drawing to an end, and it will be some time before the later standard sorts are ready for the trade. At the same time, California Crawford's, which up to a few days ago were coming in freely, are now in lighter supply, and Elbertas from the southern state are beginning to take place.

Cost of Courtesy.

The adage "Courtesy costs nothing" would if true offer sufficient reason to insure its observance by practically every member of the commercial community. It being fairly obvious to most of us that courtesy is an excellent lubricant for the machinery of business. To be always courteous is tantamount, however, requires a very considerable expenditure of mental effort, which every one of us are capable of sustaining at all times.—Magazine of Commerce.

Bismarck's Love of Nature.

Speaking of the country and the long walks he took daily, Bismarck said he loved nature, but the enjoyment of life he saw was in it, and it was a great deal of faith to believe that an "all seeing eye" could not see a man living whom one realized what I meant. "Have you ever got up in the grass and examined it closely? There is enough life in one square yard to appall you," he said.—Lady Randolph Churchill.
